Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
 - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
 - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

A document is deemed to be in your possession, custody or control if it is in your physical custody, or if it is in the physical custody of any other person and you (i) own such document in whole or in part; (ii) have a right, by contract, statute, or otherwise to use, inspect, examine or copy such document on any terms; (iii) have an understanding, express or implied, that you may use, inspect, examine, or copy such document on any terms; or (iv) have, as a practical matter, been able to use, inspect, examine, or copy such document when you sought to do so.

4. These instructions and the description of the items to be produced are to be read and interpreted in accordance with the definitions set forth above.

5. For the purposes of reading, interpreting, or construing the scope of these items to be produced, the terms used shall be given their most expansive and inclusive interpretation.

6. Unless instructed otherwise, each item to be produced shall be construed independently and not by reference to any other request for the purpose of limitation.

7. Defined terms may be capitalized for convenience; the definitions herein apply whether or not the term is capitalized.

8. If any portion of any document is responsive to any item to be produced, then the entire document must be produced. If any requested item to be produced cannot be produced in full, please produce the document to the extent possible, specifying each reason for your inability to produce the remainder of the document.

All documents must be produced in their entirety, including all attachments, appendices, exhibits and enclosures, and in their original folder, binder, or other cover or container unless that is not possible. 17. If you object to any part of any item to be produced, you shall state fully the nature of the objection, in writing, and shall nonetheless comply fully with the other parts of the item to be produced not objected to.

18. These requests are continuing in nature. If, after producing any documents in response to these requests, you obtain or become aware of additional responsive information or documents, You should provide such information or documents by way of a supplemental production.

19. Applicant reserves its right to request inspection of the original documents, including those stored electronically, as they are kept in the usual course of business. If the original is not in your custody, then a copy thereof, and all non-identical copies which differ from the original or from the other copies produced for any reason, including, without limitations, the making of notes thereon.

FORMS OF PRODUCTION

A. Production of Hard Copy Documents – Format

1. Hard copy documents should be scanned as single-page, Group IV, 300 DPI TIFF images with an .opt image cross-reference file and a delimited database load file (i.e. .dat). The database load file should contain the following fields: “BEGNO,” “ENDNO,” “PAGES,” “VOLUME” and “CUSTODIAN.” The documents should be logically unitized (i.e., distinct documents shall not be merged into a single record, and single documents shall not be split into multiple records) and be produced in the order in which they are kept in the usual course of business. If an original document contains color to understand the meaning or content of the document, the document shall be produced as single-page, 300 DPI JPG images with JPG compression and a high-quality setting as to not degrade the original image. Multi-page OCR text for each document should also be provided. The OCR software shall maximize text quality over process speed. Settings such as “auto-skewing” and “auto-rotation” should be turned on during the OCR process.

B. Production of ESI

2. Format: Electronically stored information (“ESI”) should be produced in singlepage, black and white, TIFF Group IV, 300 DPI TIFF images, with the exception of spreadsheet type files, source code, audio and video files, which should be produced in native format. TIFFs should show any and all text and images which would be visible to the reader using the native software that created the document. For example, TIFFs of e-mail messages should include the BCC line. PowerPoint documents shall be processed with hidden slides and all speaker notes unhidden, and shall be processed to show both the slide and the speaker’s notes on the TIFF image. If an original document contains color, the document should be produced as single-page, 300 DPI JPG images with JPG compression and a high-quality setting as to not degrade the original image. Parties are under no obligation to enhance an image beyond how it was kept in the usual course of business.

3. Format – Native Files: If a document is produced in native format, a single-page, Bates-stamped image slip sheet stating the document has been produced in native format should also be provided. Each native file should be named according to the Bates number it has been assigned, and should be linked directly to its corresponding record in the load file using the NATIVELINK field. To the extent that either party believes that specific documents or classes of documents, not already identified within this protocol, should be produced in native format, the parties should meet and confer in good faith.

4. De-Duplication: You should remove exact duplicate documents based on MD5 or SHA-1 hash values, at the family level. Attachments should not be eliminated as duplicates for purposes of production, unless the parent e-mail and all attachments are also duplicates. An email that includes content in the BCC or other blind copy field shall not be treated as a duplicate of an email that does not include content in those fields, even if all remaining content in the email is identical. Removal of near-duplicate documents and e-mail thread suppression is not acceptable. De-duplication should be done across the entire collection (global de-duplication) and the CUSTODIAN field should list each custodian, separated by a semi-colon, who was a source of that document and the FILEPATH field will list each file path, separated by a semi-colon, that was a source of that document. Should the CUSTODIAN or FILEPATH metadata fields produced become outdated due to rolling productions, an overlay file providing all the custodians and file paths for the affected documents should be produced prior to substantial completion of the document production.

5. Metadata: All ESI shall be produced with a delimited, database load file that contains the metadata fields listed in Table 1, attached hereto. The metadata produced should have the correct encoding to enable preservation of the documents' original language.

6. Compressed Files Types: Compressed file types (i.e. .ZIP, .RAR, .CAB, .Z) should be decompressed so that the lowest level document or file is extracted.

7. Redactions: If You redact documents produced in native format, you must ensure that proper formatting and usability are maintained.
